Images of Rail, Sioux City Railroads.....$20.00 Qty _____

Book Description:

Toward the end of the 19th century, railroads transformed Sioux City from a western outpost to one of the fastest-growing municipalities in the world. Prior to the arrival of the railroads, Sioux City depended on the Missouri River for transportation. The Missouri, however, was unreliable because of flooding and droughts. As an all-season mode of transportation, the railroads permitted the flourishing of the meatpacking industry in Sioux City. In fact, it was the large number of different railroad companies that made Sioux City a major agricultural center rather just a county seat or market town. Trains carried cattle and hogs to the plants and then carted away the Sioux City-processed products to the world. Excellent historical photos of the five major railroads that made Sioux City the 10th largest rail center in the United States in the 1920's. (128 pages) Author: Dr. Rudolph Daniels
